

hold this water in the waters of your knowing crumble sandstone and pipe concealing under foot and under scar sits water and always a place of salt and fresh sweet meeting shared across flesh and stone and story this place of always in the waters of this knowing